Welcome to the Pasadena Area Guide, a project of the Caltech Women's Club that depends entirely on club members' suggestions and referrals. We rely on our members to keep the information in the Guide current and accurate. If there is a category we've left out or a service provider you would like to recommend, please let us know. To offer new or updated information for future entries, please e-mail Natalie Cohen, at ncohen@usc.edu. This Guide is updated twice a year, but your referrals and comments are welcome at any time.

CALTECH WOMEN'S CLUB

Members of the Caltech/JPL community are welcome to join the Caltech Women's Club. We are a group of women (and a few men) who have in common a connection with Caltech/JPL. The objective of the club is to promote friendliness and the sharing of mutual interests. We are different ages, heritages, and nationalities and have varied interests and lifestyles. Some of us have been here for years, while others have come recently or are here temporarily. The Caltech Women's Club provides us all with a way of connecting. The Club is most active during the academic year from October to May with some activities continuing through the summer.

For information on membership, check the club website: <http://www.cwclub.caltech.edu>

GARDENING

❖ Landscape Design, Landscape and Hardscape

Gagnier Landscape, (626) 355-5977, P. O. Box 743, Sierra Madre, CA 91025. Joe Gagnier did some work for us about five years ago, and when we decided this year to redo our front lawn into a deer unfriendly, dog unfriendly, drought resistant, shade tolerant garden, he did a wonderful job. He is not the cheapest but stands behind every thing he does. When a plant he put in dies for any reason, it is replaced free. I believe they also have done some landscape work at Caltech. Joe also runs a gardening maintenance service called Go To Landscape Tuning, (626) 355-1590, P. O. Box 1323, Sierra Madre, CA 91025. They take care of what they put in and more, bring mulch and fertilizer, remove leaves, trim up to 12 feet vertical, adjust the watering system as needed, etc." Ref. by Ellen S. (Fall 2016)

Juan García, (626) 926-8567. "He is a "thinking" man. I went through 3 different gardeners trying to find out why my lawn was not being watered properly. Each one had a different excuse. Juan came along, took the time to analyze the situation, and then he added more sprinklers in the proper places. He is someone you can speak to – not bossy like many of them.” Ref. by France M. ❖ Camping

California State Park Camping Reservations, <http://www.parks.ca.gov/> or <http://www.reserveamerica.com> To reserve a campground in a California State Park, you can book up to 7 months in advance: e.g. to book a popular summer beach campground for July you can make a reservation starting in January. National Park Service Camping Reservations, <http://reservations.nps.gov/>

Catalina Island, <http://www.visitcatalinaisland.com/twoHarbors/Camping.php> ”Rated one of the Best Campgrounds in the West” by Sunset Magazine, Little Harbor Campground is perfect for campers who enjoy playing on the beach or in the water. Located about seven miles east of Two Harbors and 16 miles from Avalon, Little Harbor is a sandy, beachfront campground with lots of opportunities for recreation. I’ve never camped here myself but one Caltech family with two small children had a great experience camping here one summer for a whole week.” Ref. by Katie C. (Fall 2016)

Leo Carillo State Park, Malibu, “This campground often books up many months in advance. It is only about a 1 hour drive from Pasadena. I love it there: there are great trails; beautiful beaches AND clean hot showers for a couple of quarters. There is a Starbucks 15 min. from the campsite. This place was where I went camping for the first time, so it is great for first timers and those with little tiny ones who don’t know what it will be like camping with little ones. I totally recommend it for 2 day camping.” Ref. by Katie C. (Summer 2016)

McGee Creek, near Mammoth Lakes. Elevation of 7600 ft., 28 tent or RV sites, flush toilets, piped water, tables, fire rings. The nearest showers are at the trailer park at McGee Creek Road at 395, or (with a store and restaurant) at Tom’s Place, just a few minutes away, on old 395. It is a short drive to Rock Creek, Lake Crowley, Convict Lake and Mammoth Lakes. You can hike, mountain bike, fish, explore back roads in Mammoth Lakes or just hang out. The Mono basin, Bodie, and Tioga/Yosemite are close enough for a day trip. Probably around 6 hours drive from Pasadena. From JPL Hiking Club Archives. <http://www.jplreclubs.caltech.edu/hiking/html/flyerarchive.html>

McGrath State Beach, Ventura. “This is a large flat campground near sandy dunes about 90 minutes from Pasadena. It can be one of the easier beach campgrounds to get into. It is a great place to bring a kite to fly on the dunes or a boogie board for the large sandy beach.” Ref. by Katie C. (Fall 2016)

steep road. No RVs! We've camped here several times in July and seen snow nearby. The stream that runs through the campground is positively freezing. There is lots of great hiking nearby and this is worth the drive. There's also a small lodge/restaurant where you can go if you want to eat out. First come first served. We've always tried to arrive by dinner on a Friday to get a site for the weekend. About a 5-6 hour drive from Pasadena including 1 hour to drive the steep twisty road." Ref. by Katie C. (Fall 2016)

Paradise Campground. "In a valley behind Santa Barbara not far from Lake Cachuma, is a small campground with a big central grassy area (great for playing Frisbee or badminton) with access to a nearby river plus fun boulders to scramble on. It is about 20 minutes from Santa Barbara and 5 minutes from the Paradise Store if you need to pick up basic supplies. A great family weekend getaway and it doesn't book up as quickly as beach campsites." Ref. by Katie C. (Fall 2016)

Pinecrest, Sonora, www.reserveamerica.com "Friends of mine with 3 children from the San Francisco Bay Area spent one week camping at Pinecrest Lake near Sonora one summer. There are water activities plus they show movies outdoors at night for entertainment. Tip: pick a campsite away from the road. C loop is good and D is OK. Book in advance for the summer." Ref. by Katie C. (Fall 2016)

Point Mugu State Park/Big Sycamore Canyon. "One of my favorite beach campgrounds with beach access and hillside hiking less than 90 minutes from Pasadena." Ref. by Katie C. (Fall 2016)

One tip is to avoid the campsites (e.g. #9) nearest the main road (Highway 33) since it is a popular route for loud early Sunday morning motorbike rides. We prefer staying near campsites #55 and #58 for easy restroom access and morning quiet. Ojai is about a 90 minute drive west of Pasadena." Ref. by Katie C. (Fall 2016)
